MORE FACTS

Conservative States Ban These Devices. So Should PA.

Machine gun switches are currently banned under federal law, but without a state law that does the same, local district attorneys can't prosecute this crime, only federal law enforcement can. Federal law enforcement is already stretched thin and is less likely to prosecute these crimes than local law enforcement.

It is crucial that Pennsylvania be the next state to ban these DIY machine gun conversion devices.

23 states including Indiana, Iowa, Louisiana, and Virginia have passed their own laws banning these switches.
